READING

2A Check invention in your dictionary. Which inventions 1–8 are in the pictures?

- | | |
|-----------|--------------|
| 1 paper | 5 pizza |
| 2 email | 6 chocolate |
| 3 pencil | 7 wheelchair |
| 4 aspirin | 8 margarine |

B Where are inventions 1–8 from? Match the country and the invention.

C Read the text and check your ideas.

Where are they from?

Great inventions are international but where are they from? Where is the wheelchair from? How about aspirin? And chocolate? Read and find out!

Food

It's no surprise that pizza is from Italy, the invention of an Italian baker, Raffaele Esposito. Switzerland is famous for chocolate but chocolate is in fact from Central America, from Mexico. And what about another food, margarine? Well, margarine is the invention of a Frenchman, Hippolyte Mège-Mouriès.

Communications

The word 'paper' is from the Egyptian word 'papyrus', but paper is one of the great inventions of ancient China. And the pencil? That's from England. Now we don't communicate on paper very much, but by email. Email is the invention of the American, Ray Tomlinson. Tomlinson's first email was QWERTYUIOP!

Health

Aspirin is from Germany, the invention of Felix Hoffman, for his ill father. And how about the wheelchair? The wheelchair is a Spanish invention. The first wheelchair was for King Philip II of Spain in 1554.

D Cover the text and write the invention for 1–5. Then read the text again and check your answers.

- Raffaele Esposito pizza
- Felix Hoffman
- Hippolyte Mège-Mouriès
- King Philip II of Spain
- Ray Tomlinson

2A Match the photos with the forum entries.

Travel Forum: What's different?

Where are you now? Send us a photo and tell us what's different about it for you.

- 1 What's different? It's very hot here and the shops in the old market are very different. The market is big and they have beautiful old jewellery and pottery. We're here on holiday and I like it very much – the people are great. The big problem for me is ... Well, it's very hot here, and I'm always thirsty.
- 2 What's different? Not a lot. They have yellow taxis here. At home our taxis are black. The people are very friendly: they say 'Have a nice day!' all the time, the same as in films. That's different. I like the city a lot but I'm surprised because it's very cold and I don't have my winter clothes.
- 3 What's different? They have music, music everywhere: samba, lambada, bossa nova - it's great. The city is on the beach. That's different. We don't have beaches at home. The food's very good too. I'm in my favourite café with an espresso and a hot 'pao de queijo' (cheese bread). The city is beautiful but it has hundreds of tourists.

READING

2A Read the text. Which actions are in the picture?

An English teacher writes ...
10 things that drive me crazy

I love my job. I really like teaching English, and my students are great. But sometimes they drive me crazy! I don't like it when a student:

- 1 comes to the lesson late every day.
- 2 talks on his or her phone or sends texts in the lesson.
- 3 doesn't finish the homework, or doesn't do it.
- 4 has food or drink in the lesson.
- 5 looks at his or her computer all the time.
- 6 listens to his or her MP3 player in the lesson.
- 7 doesn't answer my question but only looks at me.
- 8 speaks his or her language and doesn't speak English.
- 9 looks in his or her dictionary twenty times in the lesson.
- 10 comes to class ill or tired.

Are you a student? Do you do these things? Maybe you drive your teacher crazy!

B Who says these sentences?

The teacher (T) or a student (S)?

- a) 'Where is your homework, Wu?' T
- b) 'No entiendo.' S
- c) 'Are you OK, Janine? You don't look well.'
- d) 'Please close that. You don't understand a word? Please ask me.'
- e) 'Hi, Estella. It's me. Shhh. I'm in class.'
- f) 'Chris? Chris? CHRIS! Listen to me, not your music. Thank you.'

READING

4A Look at the photo. Do you think the train station is in Tibet, the USA, Spain, Turkey or England?

B Read the article and check.

No trains? Wonderful!

People don't usually like waiting in train stations. They feel bored, and there's nothing interesting to see or do. But that's not true in these train stations!

- 1 Tanggula Mountain Railway Station, Tibet, is at 5,058 metres. The Tanggula mountains and the river are a wonderful sight. It's a lovely place to wait for a train.
- 2 Union Station in Washington DC, USA, is the number one place for many tourists. It's over 100 years old, there are 130 shops, and many restaurants and snack bars. The station is a great place to bring your family for a dinner, and people never feel bored – there's so much to do and see.
- 3 Atocha Station in Madrid, Spain, has trees inside the station, so people walk around and drink coffee in the middle of a beautiful green jungle.
- 4 Haydarpasa Station in Istanbul, Turkey, is almost an island. It stands in the sea, and has water on three sides. There are boats from the station.
- 5 Pickering Station in Yorkshire, England, is a small town station with an old-time atmosphere. There's a hairdresser's and an old tea room. Once a year the people there dress in 1940s clothes.

C Read the article again and match headings a)–e) with paragraphs 1–5.

- a) Beautiful views
- b) Shop and eat all day
- c) No train? Take a boat!
- d) What year is it now?
- e) Green all around

B Complete sentences 1-5 with the words from Exercise 1A.

- 1 The _____ is very expensive!
underground
- 2 What time do you _____?
- 3 There's a _____ in the station.
- 4 The restaurant is very _____.
- 5 Do you like _____?

GRAMMAR present simple questions: he/she/it; adverbs of frequency

2A Read paragraph 1 of the text and choose the best headline.

- a) I WATCH PASSENGERS
- b) ARE YOU A BAD PASSENGER?
- c) 99 PASSENGERS A DAY

B Complete the questions about the bad passenger.

- 1 Does he have _____ a lot of bags? (have)
- 2 _____ about the bus times?
(where / ask)
- 3 _____ at the snack shop ?
(what / do)
- 4 _____ in the station?
(what / read)
- 5 _____ to the bus? (when / get)
- 6 _____ his ticket? (where / have)
- 7 _____ on the bus? (what / eat)
- 8 _____ thank you? (say)

1 My name's Eric Roamer. I'm a bus driver. I love my job, and 99 out of 100 passengers are great, but number 100 is THE BAD PASSENGER. You see him in the bus station and you know him. How do you know? It's easy. Watch him buy a ticket. Watch him at the snack bar. And watch him on the bus.

2 He doesn't go to the information desk. He goes to the ticket office and asks questions about the bus times, with people waiting behind him. In the snack bar, he reads the menu for ten minutes and then he gets a coffee. In the bus station he reads a newspaper, but not his newspaper – another passenger's newspaper. He doesn't buy newspapers.

3 The bus leaves at ten. The bad passenger gets to the bus at one minute to ten, usually with four bags. But where's his ticket? It's in a bag, but there are four bags and he doesn't know which one. He finds his ticket, after five minutes. So 7 times out of 10, the bus leaves late.

4 On the bus he often eats fast food and chocolate and then he leaves the paper on the seat. And of course, at the end of the journey, he never says thank you. He says, 'It's too hot on the bus', or 'It's too cold', or 'We're late'. I say, 'Have a nice day!'

C Read paragraphs 2-4 and answer the questions in Exercise 2B.

- 1 Yes, he does.
- 2 _____
- 3 _____

D Read the text again. Then complete sentences 1-6 with the correct adverb in brackets.

- n't often*
- 1 There are ~~/~~ bad passengers on buses. (not often / never)
 - 2 The bad passenger asks questions at the information desk. (usually / never)
 - 3 He asks questions at the ticket office. (always / sometimes)
 - 4 He has a lot of bags. (usually / not often)
 - 5 The bus is late because of the bad passenger. (often / never)
 - 6 He says, 'It's hot on the bus.' (sometimes / always)

Your best bad holiday

A bad holiday is always terrible ... or is it? Tell us about your best bad holiday.

1 In 2009 we went to Portugal. When we arrived, our beach hotel was full, so they gave us a room in the town, two kilometres from the beach. We weren't happy. Then we met some local people. They asked us to their house, and we had some real local food. It was a real holiday, not a tourist holiday.

Mark and Sandy T

2 My wife and I went to Mexico last year and on the last day we were very ill. We went to hospital, and we were there for two weeks. The doctors were lovely, and we met some really nice people. That was a very interesting week, because we weren't tourists. We 'lived' in Mexico.

Sven L

3 My brothers and sisters live all around the world, and in 2007 we had a big family party at a hotel on a beach in Malaysia. It was in June, and June is usually hot but that year it rained every day. So we sat in the hotel and read books, played games, and talked. We had a really good time, and it was fantastic for our family.

FOR MEN ONLY:
SIX GIFTS NOT TO GIVE YOUR WIFE OR GIRLFRIEND

Sometimes it's difficult to buy a good gift, and easy to buy a bad one. Next time you shop for a present for your friend or wife, take this list ... and DON'T buy these things!

- Clothes – they're always the wrong size, the wrong colour, or just wrong.
- A gift certificate to a gym – this gift tells her 'You're too fat!'
- A cookbook – the message here is 'You're a bad cook' or 'Please cook for me.'
- A photo frame with no picture – a frame with no picture is a big question mark. Put a picture of the two of you in the frame (and NOT a picture of you alone!).
- A set of luggage – maybe she needs luggage, but from you this gift says 'I want you to leave me.'
- A vase with no flowers – this is the same as a photo frame with no picture. It's an empty feeling. Give her flowers but no vase. Yes, flowers die, but true love never dies!

C Read the women's sentences. Which gift did they get?

- 1 'But I make dinner for you every night!' a cookbook
- 2 'They're very useful ... but do you think I need a holiday?'
- 3 'You bought me the same gift last year and I only went three times!'
- 4 'They're fantastic. Really beautiful!'
- 5 'It's nice, but where am I?'
- 6 'I like it. Let me get something from the garden to put in it.'
- 7 'It's red. You know I don't like red!'

GRAMMAR object pronouns

3A Complete the table.

Subject pronoun	Object pronoun
I	¹ me
2	you
he	3
4	her
it	5
6	us
they	7

B Complete the text with object pronouns (me, you, etc.).

I'm not a bad person. But I'm not very lucky with gift-giving. I bought my husband a beautiful, expensive pen but he had two of ¹them. When I gave ²_____ the pen box, he opened ³_____ and said 'Great - number three!' I got a clock for my mother, and she hated ⁴_____. 'Clocks are for old people, not for ⁵_____', she said. 'I'm not old!' I found a lovely scarf for my sister. I sent ⁶_____ to ⁷_____ in the post but she never got ⁸_____. Then my birthday came, and my husband, mother and sister gave ⁹_____ a box. 'This is for ¹⁰_____!' they said. 'Happy Birthday from all of ¹¹_____!' I opened ¹²_____. Inside was a pen, a clock and a scarf. I laughed with all of ¹³_____.

4 Look at the conversations. Complete B's part with the correct pronoun. Use the words in bold to help.

- A: Are Denny and Barb at home?
 B: I don't know. I phoned them but they didn't answer.
- A: When did you see Anna?
 B: _____ was at the office. I gave _____ your number.
- A: So, how's the new flat?
 B: I like _____ a lot. _____'s small but I live alone so _____'s good for me.
- A: Hey, how does Martin know you two?
 B: _____ met him at the party last Friday. He told _____ about you.
- A: I didn't get your emails.
 B: Sorry, maybe I sent _____ to the wrong address. _____ weren't important.
- A: Hello, nice to meet you. I'm Sue.
 B: _____ think _____ know you from somewhere. Do you remember _____? My name's Gill.

READING

2A Read the article and tick two good ideas. Put a cross by two bad ideas.

How to reach your goals

Here's a typical situation. Someone says, 'I'm going to lose weight'; 'I'm going to change jobs'; 'I'm going to stop smoking.' One month, two months or one year later, there's no change. When we have a goal, how can we be sure we reach it?

Here are seven top tips:

- 1 Write the goal on a piece of paper. Put it over your desk.
- 2 Tell a friend your goal. Ask him or her for help.
- 3 Don't talk about it a lot – you lose energy that way. Talking is not doing. You want to do.
- 4 Make the goal concrete. Don't say, 'I'm going to save money'; say, 'I'm going to save $1,000 in six months.'
- 5 Give a start and finish date.
- 6 Be sure the goal is your goal, not a goal that someone gave you.
- 7 Do something to reach your goal every day.

B Match mistakes a)–f) with ideas 1–7 above.

- a) 'I want to change my job some time in the future.' 4, 5
- b) 'Today I didn't do anything about a new job.'
- c) 'I talk to everyone about my goal, all the time.'
- d) 'I wrote a note on my computer: 'Next year I'm going to change my job'. Now I can't find the note.'
- e) My best friend said 'Look for a job with more money', but money isn't important to me.
- f) 'I don't talk to anyone about my goal.'

GRAMMAR *be going to3 Complete the sentences with the correct form (positive or negative) of the verb in brackets.

- 1 She's going to change her name because she doesn't like the name 'Princess'. (change)
- 2 Good morning. I'm Jack Soames and today I _____ about the problems with city transport. (talk)
- 3 The weather's bad so I _____ the mountain today. It's too dangerous. (climb)
- 4 They _____ to bed early tonight because their bus is at six o'clock tomorrow morning. (go)
- 5 Jaime has problems with his English so tomorrow his teacher _____ him with extra lessons. (help)
- 6 Mark and Ruth don't like parties so they _____ on Friday. (come)
- 7 My mother can't read maps so we _____ a GPS for her car. (buy)
- 8 We _____ to Scotland because there's a very good, fast train service and the roads aren't very good. (drive)
- 9 There's something wrong with my computer so Jim _____ at it. (look)
- 10 Tina really loves her old camera so she _____ it. (sell)

4 Complete the conversation with the words in the box.

I = Interviewer A = Angela M = Matt

I: Today's programme is about 'double lives' and we have in the studio a sister and brother, Angela ...

A: Hi.

I: ... and Matt.

M: Hello.

I: Angela and Matt are from Lancaster, in England. They're twins, they're thirty-six years old. And ... well let me ask you some questions. Angela, you and Matt have a taxi company, yes?

A: That's right. Twin Taxi Company.

I: So twin brother and sister, twin taxis – two taxis – good name for the company!

A: We don't have two taxis. We have one taxi.

I: Oh? So who drives?

M: Well, it's a twenty-four-hour taxi service. Well, actually twenty-two hours. I drive eleven hours, and Angela drives eleven hours.

I: In the same taxi, day and night.

A: I drive in the morning and in the afternoon.

M: And I drive in the evening, and at night.

A: And we love it. It's great!

I: Eleven hours a day. That's a lot of work.

M: Yes, well we both have children.

A: Yeah, and they always want something new – a new phone, new computer ...

M: ... new clothes, new shoes.

I: How many children do you have, Matt?

M: I have two children.

I: Twins?

M: No! A son and a daughter. He's three and she's four years old.

I: And you Angela?

A: One girl, Diana. She's seventeen.

I: OK. You both work a lot. When do you two see each other?

A: We have coffee together every morning at six.

M: Yeah, I stop work then ...

A: ... and I start work.

I: And what do you two usually talk about?

M: The usual, really – family, children, my wife ...

A: ... my husband, money.

I: The taxi?

A/M: Yes, the taxi!

B: Well, in a typical day, I get up at seven in the morning.

A: And do you have a big breakfast?

B: No, I don't. I never have breakfast.

A: Oh ... I'm surprised ... So what do you do in the morning?

B: I go to work. I do sport – sumo training.

A: And you aren't hungry? You do sport with no food ...

B: Well, yes, I'm very hungry in the mornings ... always.

A: When do you eat? Do you have lunch?

B: Yes, we have lunch together at twelve. A big lunch.

A: And do you eat junk food ... pizza, hamburgers – things like that?

B: No, I never eat pizza or other junk food. I usually eat 'Chanko-nabe'.

A: 'Chanko-nabe'? What's that?

B: It's Japanese – it's with chicken, fish and vegetables.

A: Very healthy!

B: Yes and I often have six litres of beer with lunch.

A: Really? Six litres?

B: And then, after lunch, I go to bed.

A: You go to bed!

B: Yes, I usually sleep about four hours in the afternoon.

A: And in the evening?

B: Sumo training ... a big dinner of Chanko-nabe and cola, and then sleep. I usually go to bed at about ten.

A: Well, that's very interesting. Thank you, George. Now I'm er ... hungry.

B: Let's have lunch!

A: Chanko-nabe?

B: Of course!

J: I met Clare last year in an Italian class. I wanted to learn Italian because I love Italy and I wanted to go to Italy on holiday. Anyway, Clare sat next to me in class. At first, I didn't like her because she was good at Italian and I wasn't very good. But every day we went home on the same bus and we talked and became friends.
Then one day Clare phoned me and said, 'Hey, let's go to India together!' I was very surprised. I said, 'You mean Italy, not India.' She said 'No, India', because she loved Indian food. I love it, too. We went to India together last summer and we had a fantastic time. We're great friends now.

A: I met my best friend Raji on the internet. It was in 2007 after I finished university. My first job was in Canberra. So I moved home, from Sydney to Canberra. All my friends were in Sydney and I didn't know anyone in Canberra.

I was bored in the evenings and I had a lot of free time. So I went on the internet a lot. And there was a blog, called Vindaloo, about Indian food. I love Indian food. And on the blog I talked to a guy called Raji. He knew a lot about Indian cooking. So I emailed him and I got an email back. He lived in Canberra, too. So we met, and we were instant best friends.

I'm not a musician so I wasn't very good. I liked the music, you know, and I went with Cheryl – she's a great musician. We laughed a lot. It was fantastic. I'm happy that we went, it was a great gift.

Speaker 2

It's just so fast. I mean, I usually drive fast, 120 kilometres an hour on the motorway, but this was different. You don't have time to think. I was really scared. I didn't like it. I thought it was too dangerous.

Speaker 3

Amazing, really. Everything was so small from up there, so far away. I felt relaxed, very relaxed. We took hundreds of pictures. The countryside was beautiful.

Speaker 4

We were a small group – five of us. We went out to this place near the sea. A very quiet, beautiful place. We sat and waited. And waited. We didn't speak. Our guide said, 'Just wait.' And then two or three birds were there, but nothing 'amazing'. The guide said it was a bad day for it, sometimes they don't come. So it wasn't very good, really. I was angry because I know it was expensive.

Speaker 1

I started the job on Friday, and the first day was OK. But then on Saturday, a lot of people came into the shop and there were only two of us. People asked me questions and I didn't know the answers. I know about computers, but I don't know the shop or the prices of things. So some customers became angry. It was very difficult. My boss wasn't happy with me.

Speaker 2

I studied a long time for this job. I know the city and all the tourist places. I speak three languages: English, German and Japanese. Then on my first day, they gave me a group of Japanese tourists. I said 'Hello' in Japanese, and they said nothing. Nothing! I thought OK, let's do the tour. So we walked around the old town, I talked in Japanese about everything – my Japanese is really good. They all looked unhappy, but they didn't say anything. Then finally at the end one man said to me in English, 'We're not Japanese, we're Korean. We didn't understand you.' What a terrible mistake! I felt very bad.

Speaker 3

People think it's an easy job, but it isn't. I started one month ago and things were OK, but then a woman came in and asked for a simple hair cut. 'Just a little cut', she said, 'and a shampoo'. I cut her hair and washed it, and then when she looked in the mirror she screamed, 'Arrrrgh! It's too short!' Then I made a big mistake. I laughed. I didn't see a problem – her hair was good. Then my boss came out and he said, 'Go!' so I left. I thought I lost the job. An hour later he phoned me. He wasn't angry, he just said 'Come back, but next time, don't laugh! OK!'

World Hello Day is on November 21st every year. Say 'hello' to ten people on the bus, on the train, at work, at school and in the street. Try it this year. It's so easy!

August 11th is Son and Daughter Day. It's a great day to play with your children or to go out with them. Why? Because they're your children.

Dear Martin,

Many people say they can't ~~singing~~ sing. Can you talk? Then you can sing.

Remember, Mike loves singing

You're going to be fine!

Dear Kensie,

Wally ~~don't~~ can't stay home alone, he's 14 and that's very young. He ~~can~~ Can he take swimming lessons? Or can you go on a mountain holiday?

Dear Daniel,

You say you don't often speak in class. But do you sometimes speak? Can people ~~they~~ understand you? Then your pronunciation is not a problem and you can ~~to~~ speak English just fine.
